DESCRIPTION

There's trouble in store for Brenda in this second outing for Whitby's fearless supernatural investigators. Poison pen letters are flying about and the garden furniture at the Hotel Miramar seems to be possessed. Brenda has no choice but to pull herself back together... quite literally!

REVIEWS

'Utterly original. I was totally charmed' (The Times)

'It is wonderful, I love it and really hope there will be sequels starring Brenda, whom I love to bits' (Jill Mansell)

'This is a quirky, whimsical, episodic novel that combines perversity, situation comedy and quietly lush moments of poetry' (Time Out)

'A great novelist' - Russell T. Davies
